

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

FROM THE BRIGHT LEGACY.

One half the income from this Legacy, which was received in 1880 under the will of

of Waltham, Massachusetts, is to be expended for books for the College Library. The other half of the income is devoted to scholarships in Harvard University for the benefit of descendants of who died at Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1686. In the absence of such descendants, other persons are eligible to the scholarships. The will requires that this announcement shall be made in every book added to the Library under its provisions.

PREFACE.

A LEGISLATIVE MANUAL and Political Register for the State of North Carolina is herewith presented, for the first time, in the history of the State.

The want of such a compilation is felt by every citizen in the State.

In very many of the States of the Union, such a work is annually published by public patronage, and is much esteemed as affording a ready reference to names, dates and facts, which are inaccessible to some, of difficulty to many, and important to all.

The compiler feels grateful to many patriotic citizens of North Carolina for aid afforded. In the collection of so many names and facts, and the compilation of so large an array of figures, it is to be expected that some errors will occur. Much labor and pains have been taken to guard against them; errors will creep in, however, and the compiler will be grateful to any one who may detect them, and communicate the facts, that they may be avoided in future editions. It is to be hoped, however, that should some errors occur, they will be so small as not to mislead the observant reader, or impair the usefulness of the work.

In future editions, (as the work is, by law, to be prepared for each succeeding Legislature,) such errors will be avoided; and by improvement in matter and embellishments in mode, this work more worthy of its distinguished subject, and the patronage of its patriotic citizens.

JOHN H. WHEELER.

NO. II.
Constitution of the United States.

CONSTITUTION.

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SECTION 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECTION 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year ; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year ; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator, who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be president of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside ; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States ; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SECTION 4. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof ; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualification of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business ; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties, as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECTION 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECTION 8. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

To establish an uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, to regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish post offices and post roads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offences against the law of nations ;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water ;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years ;

To provide and maintain a navy ;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces ;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions ;

To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress ;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings ;—and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SECTION 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation, or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another ; nor shall vessels bound to, or from one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law ; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States ; and no person holding an office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign State.

SECTION 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation ; grant letters of marque and reprisal ; coin money ; emit bills of credit ; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts ; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and together with the Vice President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such a majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors, shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice President.*

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office, who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

*This clause of the Constitution has been amended. See 12th article of the amendments.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his service a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation :

“I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States.”

SECTION 2. The President shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they may think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SECTION 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all of the officers of the United States.

SECTION 4. The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECTION 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact; with such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SECTION 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SECTION 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SECTION 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union ; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State ; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or part of States, without the consent of the legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States ; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SECTION 4. The United States shall guaranty to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the legislature, or of the executive, (when the legislature cannot be convened,) against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress ; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article ; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land ; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution ; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

AMENDMENTS.

[The following amendments were proposed at the first session of the first Congress of the United States, which was begun and held at the city of New York, on the 4th of March, 1789, and were adopted by the requisite number of States.—1 vol. Laws of U. S., p. 72.]

[The preamble and resolution following, preceded the original proposition of the amendments, and, as they have been supposed by a high equity judge, (8 Wendell's reports, p. 100,) to have an important bearing on the construction of those amendments, they are here inserted. They will be found in the journals of the first session of the first Congress.

Congress of the United States, begun and held at the city of New York, on Wednesday, the 4th of March, 1789. The conventions of a number of the States having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuses of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added; and as extending the ground of public confidence in the government, will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution,—

RESOLVED, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the legislatures of the several States, as amendments to the constitution of the United States, all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes as part of said Constitution, namely:]

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger ; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb ; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law ; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation ; to be confronted with the witnesses against him ; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

[The following amendment was proposed at the second session of the third Congress. It is printed in the laws of the United States, 1st vol., p. 73, as article XI.]

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves ; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice President, and of the number of votes for each ; which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted ; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed ; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote ; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March, next following, then the Vice President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.

The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice President, shall be the Vice President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice President ; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice President of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SECTION 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SECTION 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President or Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SECTION 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing the insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SECTION 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

SECTION 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

No. XI.
Constitution of North Carolina.

CONSTITUTION.

Established the 16th day of March, 1868.—Amendments ratified by the people, 7th day of August, 1873.

CHAPTER I.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union, and the existence of our civil, political and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him, for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof, and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution :

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

That the great, general and essential principles of liberty and free government, may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and government of the United States, and those of the people of this State, to the rest of the American people, may be defined and affirmed, we do declare :

SECTION 1. The equality and rights of men: That we hold it to be self-evident that all men are created equal ; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights ; that among these are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.

SEC. 2. Political power and government: That all political power is vested in, and derived from the people ; all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.

SEC. 3. Internal government of the State: That the people of this State have the inherent, sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering and abolishing their Constitution and form of government, whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness ; but every such right should be exercised in pursuance of law, and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

SEC. 4. No right to secede: That this State shall ever remain a member of the American Union ; that the people thereof are part of the American nation ; that there is no right on the part of this State to secede, and that all attempts from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union, or to sever said nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State.

SEC. 5. Allegiance: That every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and Government of the United States, and that no law or ordinance of the State in contravention or subversion thereof, can have any binding force.

SEC. 6. Public debt: The State shall never assume or pay, or authorize the collection of, any debt or obligation, express or implied, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave.

SEC. 7. Exclusive Privileges: No man or set of men are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

SEC. 8. Legislative, Executive, and Judicial power distinct: The Legislative, Executive, and Supreme judicial powers of the government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

SEC. 9. Power of suspending laws: All power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, by any authority, without the consent of the Representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights, and ought not to be exercised.

SEC. 10. Elections: All elections ought to be free.

SEC. 11. Criminal prosecutions: In all criminal prosecutions, every man has the right to be informed of the accusation against him and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for his defence, and not be compelled to give evidence against himself, or to pay costs, jail fees, or necessary witness fees of the defence, unless found guilty.

SEC. 12. Answer to criminal charges: No person shall be put to answer any criminal charge, except as hereinafter allowed, but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment.

SEC. 13. Trial by jury: No person shall be convicted of any crime but by the unanimous verdict of a jury of good and lawful men in open court. The Legislature may, however, provide other means of trial, for petty misdemeanors, with the right of appeal.

SEC. 14. Bail: Excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

SEC. 15. Search Warrants: General warrants, whereby any officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the act committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offence is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not to be granted.

SEC. 16. Imprisonment for debt: There shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, except in cases of fraud.

SEC. 17. No person to be imprisoned, &c., except by law: No person ought to be taken, imprisoned or disseized of his freehold, liberties or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by the law of the land.

SEC. 18. Habeas Corpus: Every person restrained of his liberty, is entitled to a remedy to enquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the same, if unlawful; and such remedy ought not to be denied or delayed.

SEC. 19. Controversies respecting property: In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and ought to remain sacred and inviolable.

SEC. 20. Freedom of the press: The freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and therefore ought never to be restrained, but every individual shall be held responsible for the abuse of the same.

SEC. 21. Habeas Corpus: The privileges of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

SEC. 22. Property qualification: As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon, or modified by property, therefore no property qualification ought to affect the right to vote or hold office.

SEC. 23. Representation and taxation: The people of this State ought not to be taxed, or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty, without the consent of themselves, or their representatives in General Assembly, freely given.

SEC. 24. Militia and standing armies: A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed; and, as standing armies, in time of peace, are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be kept up, and the military should be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

SEC. 25. Right to assemble, &c.: The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the Legislature for redress of grievances.

SEC. 26. Religious liberty: All men have a natural and unalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and no human authority should, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.

SEC. 27. Education: The people have a right to the privilege of education, and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.

SEC. 28. Elections should be frequent: For redress of grievances, and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held.

SEC. 29. Recurrence to first principles: A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles, is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

SEC. 30. Hereditary honors, &c.: No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors, ought to be granted or conferred in this State.

SEC. 31. Perpetuities, &c.: Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free State, and ought not to be allowed.

SEC. 32. Ex post facto laws: Retrospective laws, punishing acts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust and incompatible with liberty, wherefore, no ex post facto law ought to be made. No law taxing retrospectively, sales, purchases, or other acts previously done, ought to be passed.

SEC. 33. Slavery abolished: Slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than for crime whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted, shall be, and are hereby forever prohibited within this State.

SEC. 34. Boundaries of the State: The limits and boundaries of the State shall be and remain as they now are.

SEC. 35. Courts shall be open: All courts shall be open, and every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay.

SEC. 36. Soldiers in time of peace: No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 37. Other rights: This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others, retained by the people; and all powers, not herein delegated, remain with the people.

ARTICLE II.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. Two branches: The Legislative authority shall be vested in two distinct branches, both dependent on the people to-wit: a Senate and House of Representatives.

SEC. 2. Time of meeting: The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet biennially on the third Monday in November and when assembled, shall be denominated the General Assembly. Neither House shall proceed upon public business, unless a majority of all the members are actually present.

SEC. 3. Senate: The Senate shall be composed of fifty Senators biennially chosen by ballot.

SEC. 4. Senatorial Districts: Until the first session of the General Assembly which shall be had after the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one, the Senate shall be composed of members elected from districts constituted as follows :*

1st District—Currituck, Camden, Pasquotank, Hertford, Gates, Chowan and Perquimans shall elect two Senators.

SEC. 9. Qualification of Senators: Each member of the Senate shall be not less than twenty-five years of age; shall have resided in the State as a citizen two years, and shall have usually resided in the District for which he is chosen, one year immediately preceding his election.

SEC. 10. Qualification of Representatives: Each member of the House of Representatives shall be a qualified elector of the State, and shall have resided in the County for which he is chosen, for one year immediately preceding his election.

SEC. 11. Election of Officers: In the election of all officers, whose appointment shall be conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution, the vote shall be viva voce.

SEC. 12. No power to grant divorces: The General Assembly shall have power to pass general laws regulating divorces and alimony, but shall not have power to grant a divorce or secure alimony in any individual case.

SEC. 13. Private laws, names, &c.: The General Assembly shall not have power to pass any private law to alter the name of any person, or to legitimate any person not born in lawful wedlock, or to restore to the rights of citizenship any person convicted of an infamous crime, but shall have power to pass general laws regulating the same.

SEC. 14. Notice, private laws: The General Assembly shall not pass any private law, unless it shall be made to appear, that thirty days notice of application to pass such law shall have been given, under such direction, and in such manner as shall be provided by law.

SEC. 15. Vacancies: If vacancies shall occur in the General Assembly by death, resignation or otherwise, writs of election shall be issued by the Governor under such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 16. Laws to raise revenue: No law shall be passed to raise money on the credit of the State, or to pledge the faith of the State directly or indirectly for the payment of any debt, or to impose any tax upon the people of the State, or to allow the counties, cities or towns to do so, unless the bill for the purpose shall have been read three several times in each house of the General Assembly, and passed three several readings, which readings shall have been on three different days, and agreed to by each House respectively, and unless the yeas and nays on the second and third readings of the bill shall have been entered on the Journal.

SEC. 17. Entails: The General Assembly shall regulate entails in such manner as to prevent perpetuities.

SEC. 18. Journals: Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which shall be printed and made public immediately after the adjournment of the General Assembly.

SEC. 19. Protest: Any member of either House may dissent from, and protest against, any act or resolve, which he may think injurious to the public, or any individual, and have the reasons of his dissent entered on the Journal.

SEC. 20. Officers of the House: The House of Representatives shall choose their own Speaker and other officers.

SEC. 21. President of the Senate: The Lieutenant-Governor shall preside in the Senate, but shall have no vote, unless it may be equally divided.

SEC. 22. Speaker pro tem: The Senate shall choose its other officers and also a Speaker (pro tempore) in the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, or when he shall exercise the office of Governor.

SEC. 23. Style of enactment: The style of the acts shall be, "The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact."

SEC. 24. Powers of each House: Each House shall be judge of the qualifications and elections of its own members, shall sit upon its own adjournment from day to day, prepare bills to be passed into laws, and the two Houses, may also jointly adjourn to any future day, or other place.

SEC. 25. Bills, &c., read three times: All bills and resolutions of a legislative nature shall be read three times in each House, before they pass into laws; and shall be signed by the presiding officers of both Houses.

SEC. 26. Oath of members: Each member of the General Assembly, before taking his seat, shall take an oath or affirmation that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, and will faithfully discharge his duty as a member of the Senate or House of Representatives.

SEC. 27. Terms of office: The terms of office for Senators and members of the House of Representatives shall commence at the time of their election; and the term of office of those elected at the first election held under this Constitution shall terminate at the same time as if they had been elected, at the first ensuing regular election.

SEC. 28. Yeas and Nays: Upon motion made and seconded in either House, by one-fifth of the members present, the yeas and nays upon any question shall be taken and entered upon the journals.

SEC. 29. Election of members: The election for members of the General Assembly shall be held for the respective districts, and counties, at the places where they are now held, or may be directed hereafter to be held, in such manner as may be prescribed by law, on the first Thursday in August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and every two years thereafter. But the General Assembly may change the time of holding the elections. The first election shall be held when the vote shall be taken on the ratification of this Constitution by the voters of the State, and the General Assembly then elected, shall meet on the fifteenth day after the approval thereof by the Congress of the United States, if it fall not on Sunday, but if it shall so fall, then on the next day thereafter, and the members then elected shall hold their seats until their successors are elected at a regular election.

ARTICLE III.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. Officers of Executive Department; Term of office: The Executive Department shall consist of a Governor, (in whom shall be vested the Supreme executive power of the State) a Lieutenant-Governor, a Secretary of State, an Auditor, a Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and an Attorney-General, who shall be elected for a term of four years, by the qualified electors of the State, at the same time and places, and in the same manner as members of the General Assembly are elected. Their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next, after their election, and continue until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided, That the officers first elected shall assume the duties of their office ten days after the approval of this Constitution by the Congress of the United States, and shall hold their offices four years from and after the first day of January, 1869.

SEC. 2. Qualification and age of Governor, and Lieutenant-Governor: No person shall be eligible as Governor or Lieutenant-Governor, unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, shall have been a citizen of the United States five years, and shall have been a resident of this State for two years next before the election; nor shall the person elected to either of these two offices be eligible to the same office more than four years in any term of eight years unless the office shall have been cast upon him as Lieutenant-Governor or President of the Senate.

SEC. 3. Returns of Election: The return of every election for officers of the Executive Department shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government by the returning officers, directed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of a majority of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly. The persons having the highest number of votes respectively, shall be declared duly elected; but if two or more be equal and highest in votes for the same office, then one of them shall be chosen by joint-ballot of both Houses of the General Assembly. Contested elections shall be determined by a joint vote of both Houses of the General Assembly, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 4. Oaths of office for Governor: The Governor, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall, in the presence of the members of both branches of the General Assembly, or before any Justice of the Supreme Court, take an oath or affirmation, that he will support the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of North Carolina, and that he will faithfully perform the duties appertaining to the office of Governor to which he has been elected.

SEC. 5. Residence and duties: The Governor shall reside at the seat of government of this State, and he shall, from time to time, give the General Assembly information of the affairs of the State, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall deem expedient.

SEC. 6. Reprieves, &c.: The Governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offences, (except in cases of impeachment) upon such conditions as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. He shall biennially communicate to the General Assembly each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted; stating the name of each convict, the crime for which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, the date of commutation, pardon, or reprieve, and the reasons therefor.

SEC. 7. Reports of executive officers: The officers of the Executive Department and of the Public Institutions of the State, shall at least five days previous to each regular session of the General Assembly, severally report to the Governor, who shall transmit such reports, with his message, to the General Assembly; and the Governor may, at any time, require information in writing from the officers in the Executive Department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 8. Commander-in-Chief of Militia: The Governor shall be Commander-in-Chief of the militia of the State, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

SEC. 9. Extra sessions of the General Assembly: The Governor shall have power, on extraordinary occasions, by and with the advice of the Council of State, to convene the General Assembly in extra session by his proclamation, stating therein the purpose or purposes for which they are thus convened.

SEC. 10. Governor shall nominate and appoint officers, &c.: The Governor shall nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Senators elect, appoint, all officers whose offices are established by this Constitution, or which shall be created by law, and whose appointments are not otherwise provided for, and no such officer shall be appointed or elected by the General Assembly.

SEC. 11. Duties of Lieutenant-Governor; Compensation: The Lieutenant-Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate be equally divided. He shall, whilst acting as President of the Senate, receive for his services the same pay which shall for the same period, be allowed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and he shall receive no other compensation except when he is acting as Governor.

SEC. 12. Impeachment of the Governor; or vacancy: In case of the impeachment of the Governor, his failure to qualify, his absence from the State, his inability to discharge the duties of his office, or in the case the office of Governor shall in any wise become vacant, the powers, duties and emoluments of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant-Governor until the disabilities shall cease, or a new Governor shall be elected and qualified. In every case in which the Lieutenant-Governor shall be unable to preside over the Senate, the Senators shall elect one of their own number President of their body; and the powers, duties, and emoluments of the office of Governor shall devolve upon him whenever the Lieutenant-Governor shall, for any reason, be prevented from discharging the duties of such office as above provided, and he shall continue as acting Governor until the disabilities be removed or a new Governor or Lieutenant-Governor shall be elected and qualified. Whenever, during the recess of the General Assembly, it shall become necessary for a President of the Senate to administer the government, the Secretary of State shall convene the Senate, that they may elect such President.

SEC. 13. Duties of other executive officers: The respective duties of the Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Attorney-General shall be prescribed by law. If the office of any of said officers shall be vacated by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint another until the disability be removed or his successor be elected and qualified. Every such vacancy shall be filled by election, at the first general election that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy has taken place and the person chosen, shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term fixed in the first section of this article.

SEC. 14. Council of State: The Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer and Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall constitute ex officio, the Council of State who shall advise the Governor in the execution of his office, and three of whom, shall constitute a quorum; their advice and proceedings in this capacity shall be entered into a Journal, to be kept for this purpose exclusively, and signed by the members present, from any part of which any member may enter his dissent; and such Journal shall be placed before the General Assembly when called for by either House. The Attorney-General shall be, ex officio, the legal adviser of the Executive Department.

SEC. 15. Compensation: The officers mentioned in this Article shall, at stated periods, receive for their services a compensation to be established by law, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the time for which they shall have been elected, and the said officers shall receive no other emolument or allowance whatever.

SEC. 16. Great Seal: There shall be a seal of the State, which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him, as occasion may require, and shall be called "the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina." All grants and commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with "the Great Seal of the State," signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 17. Bureau of Statistics, &c.; There shall be established in the office of Secretary of State, a Bureau of Statistics, Agriculture and Immigration, under such regulations as the General Assembly may provide.

ARTICLE IV.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. Distinction between Law and Equity abolished; Issues; The distinction between actions at law and suits in equity, and the forms of all such actions and suits shall be abolished, and there shall be in this State but one form of action, for the enforcement or protection of private rights or the redress of private wrongs which shall be denominated a civil action; and every action prosecuted by the people of the State as a party, against a person charged with a public offence, for the punishment of the same, shall be termed a criminal action. Feigned issues shall also be abolished and the fact at issue tried by order of Court before a jury.

SEC. 2. Courts; The Judicial power of the State shall be vested in a Court for the trial of Impeachments, a Supreme Court, Superior Courts, Courts of Justices of the Peace, and Special Courts.

SEC. 3. Court of Impeachment; The Court for the trial of Impeachments shall be the Senate. A majority of the members shall be necessary to a quorum, and the judgment shall not extend beyond removal from, and disqualification to hold, office in this State; but the party shall be liable to indictment and punishment according to law.

SEC. 4. Power of Impeaching; The House of Representatives solely, shall have the power of impeaching. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the Senators present. When the Governor is impeached the Chief Justice shall preside. -

SEC. 5. Treason, what it consists in; Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court. No conviction of treason or attainder shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture.

SEC. 6. Supreme Court; The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and four Associate Justices.

SEC. 7. Terms of; There shall be two terms of the Supreme Court held at the seat of Government of the State in each year, commencing on the first Monday in January, and first Monday in June, and continuing as long as the public interests may require.

SEC. 8. Jurisdiction : The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to review, upon appeal, any decision of the courts below, upon any matter of law or legal inference ; but no issue of fact shall be tried before this court ; and the court shall have power to issue any remedial writs necessary, to give it a general supervision and control of the inferior courts.

SEC. 9. Claims against the State : The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction to hear claims against the State, but its decisions shall be merely recommendatory ; no process in the nature of execution shall issue thereon ; they shall be reported to the next session of the General Assembly for its action.

SEC. 10. Judicial Districts : The State shall be divided into twelve judicial districts, for each of which a Judge shall be chosen, who shall hold a Superior Court in each county in said district, at least twice in each year, to continue for two weeks, unless the business shall be sooner disposed of.

SEC. 11. Same : Until altered by law, the following shall be the Judicial Districts :*

TWELFTH DISTRICT :—Graham, Cherokee, Clay, Macon, Swain, Jackson, Haywood, Transylvania.

SEC. 12. Judges may exchange Districts : Every Judge of a Superior Court shall reside in his District while holding his office. The Judges may exchange Districts

*NOTE.—The Judicial Districts as they are now arranged are inserted, instead of those provided for originally.

with each other with the consent of the Governor, and the Governor, for good reasons, which he shall report to the Legislature at its current or next session, may require any Judge to hold one or more specified terms of said Courts in lieu of the Judge in whose District they are.

SEC. 13. Jurisdiction of Superior Courts : The Superior Courts shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all civil actions, whereof exclusive original jurisdiction is not given to some other Courts ; and of all criminal actions, in which the punishment may exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for one month.

SEC. 14. Appellate Jurisdiction : The Superior Courts shall have appellate jurisdiction of all issues of law or fact, determined by a Probate Judge or a Justice of the Peace, where the matter in controversy exceeds twenty-five dollars, and of matters of law in all cases.

SEC. 15. Jurisdiction of the Clerks of the Superior Courts : The Clerks of the Superior Courts shall have jurisdiction of the probate of deeds, the granting of letters testamentary and of administration, the appointment of guardians, the apprenticing of orphans, to audit the accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, and of such other matters as shall be prescribed by law. All issues of fact joined before them shall be transferred to the Superior Courts for trial, and appeals shall lie to the Superior Courts from their judgments in all matters of law.

SEC. 16. Trial by jury waived : In all issues of fact, joined in any court, the parties may waive the right to have the same determined by jury, in which case the finding of the Judge upon the facts, shall have the force and effect of a verdict of a jury.

SEC. 17. Special Courts : The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment of Special Courts, for the trial of misdemeanors, in cities and towns, where the same may be necessary.

SEC. 18. Clerk of Supreme Court : The Clerk of the Supreme Court shall be appointed by the Court, and shall hold his office for eight years.

SEC. 19. Clerk of Superior Court : A Clerk of the Superior Court for each county, shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at the time and in the manner prescribed by law, for the election of members of the General Assembly.

SEC. 20. Term of office : Clerks of the Superior Courts shall hold their offices for four years.

SEC. 21. Salaries, &c., of Judges and other officers : The General Assembly shall prescribe and regulate the fees, salaries and emoluments of all officers provided for in this Article ; but the salaries of the Judges shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 22. What laws in force : The laws of North Carolina, not repugnant to this Constitution, or to the Constitution and laws of the United States, shall be in force until lawfully altered.

SEC. 23. Suits transferred : Actions at laws, and suits in equity, pending when this Constitution shall go into effect, shall be transferred to the Courts having jurisdiction thereof, without prejudice by reason of the change, and all such actions and suits, commenced before, and pending at, the adoption by the General Assembly, of the rules of practice and procedure herein provided for, shall be heard and determined, according to the practice now in use, unless otherwise provided for by said rules.

SEC. 24. Election of Judges and terms of office : The Justices of the Supreme Court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, as is provided for the election of members of the General Assembly. They shall hold their offices for eight years. The Judges of the Superior Courts shall be elected in like manner, and shall hold their offices for eight years ; but the Judges of the Superior Courts elected at the first election under this Constitution, shall, after their election, under the superintendence of the Justices of the Supreme Court, be divided by lot into two equal classes, one of which shall hold office for four years, the other for eight years.

SEC. 25. Judges of the Superior Courts may be elected by Districts : The General Assembly may provide by law that the Judges of the Superior Courts, instead of being elected by the voters of the whole State, as is herein provided for, shall be elected by the voters of their respective Districts.

SEC. 26. Superior Courts to be at all times open : The Superior Courts shall be, at all times, open for the transaction of all business within their jurisdiction, except the trial of issues of fact requiring a jury.

SEC. 27. Solicitors, election of, and term of office : A Solicitor shall be elected for each Judicial District by the qualified voters thereof, as is prescribed for members of the General Assembly, who shall hold office for the term of four years, and prosecute on behalf of the State, in all criminal actions in the Superior Courts, and advise the officers of justice in his District.

SEC. 28. Sheriffs, Coroners, &c., election of, and term of office : In each County a Sheriff and Coroner shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof as is prescribed for members of the General Assembly, and shall hold their offices for two years. In each township there shall be a Constable, elected in like manner by the voters thereof, who shall hold his office for two years. When there is no Coroner in the County, the Clerk of the Superior Court for the County may appoint one for special cases. In case of a vacancy existing for any cause, in any of the offices created by this section, the Commissioners for the County may appoint to such office for the unexpired term.

SEC. 29. Vacancies, how filled : All vacancies occurring in the offices provided for by this Article of this Constitution, shall be filled by the appointment of the Governor, unless otherwise provided for, and the appointees shall hold their places until the next regular election.

SEC. 30. Terms of office : The officers elected at the first election held under this Constitution, shall hold their offices for the terms prescribed for them respectively, next ensuing after the next regular election for members of the General Assembly. But their terms shall begin upon the approval of this Constitution by the Congress of the United States.

SEC. 31. Justices of the Peace, jurisdiction of, &c. : The several Justices of the Peace shall have exclusive original jurisdiction under such regulations as the General Assembly shall prescribe, of all civil actions, founded on contract, wherein the sum demanded shall not exceed two hundred dollars, and wherein the title to real estate shall not be in controversy ; and of all criminal matters arising within their counties, where the punishment cannot exceed a fine of fifty dollars, or imprisonment for one month. When an issue of fact shall be joined before a Justice, on demand of either party thereto, he shall cause a jury of six men to be summoned, who shall try the same. The party against whom judgment shall be rendered in any civil action, may appeal to the Superior Court from the same, and, if the judgment shall exceed twenty-five dollars, there may be a new trial of the whole matter in the appellate court ; but if the judgment shall be for twenty-five dollars or less, then the case shall be heard in the appellate court, only upon matters of law. In all cases of a criminal nature, the party against whom judgment is given may appeal to the Superior Court, where the matter shall be heard anew. In all cases brought before a Justice, he shall make a record of the proceedings, and file the same with the Clerk of the Superior Court for his county.

SEC. 32. Vacancy, how filled : When the office of Justice of the Peace shall become vacant, otherwise than by expiration of the term, and in case of a failure by the voters of any district, to elect, the Clerk of the Superior Court for the county, shall appoint to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term.

SEC. 33. Vacancy in office of Clerk of Superior Court, how filled : In case the office of Clerk of a Superior Court for a County shall become vacant, otherwise than by the expiration of the term, and in case of a failure by the people to elect, the Judge of the Superior Court for the County shall appoint to fill the vacancy until an election can be regularly held.*

ARTICLE V.

REVENUE AND TAXATION.

SECTION 1. Capitation tax ; equation of taxation ; exemptions : The General Assembly shall levy a capitation tax on every male inhabitant of the State over twenty-one and under fifty years of age, which shall be equal on each, to the tax on property valued at three hundred dollars in cash. The Commissioners of the

*NOTE.—The amendments to this and other succeeding Articles, make an alteration in the numbers of many of the sections necessary. This should be borne in mind, whenever the number of certain sections do not correspond with those in the original. Such alterations were not provided for in the several Acts proposing the amendments, yet they would seem to follow as a necessary consequence.

State Debt.

FROM ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE TREASURER TO THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA, FOR FISCAL YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1873.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, Nov. 12th, 1873.

I again call the attention of the General Assembly to the necessity of making some provision in regard to the debt. The statements show in extenso the amount of the same, when due and for what purpose issued. It is seen that the entire amount, excluding special tax and unconstitutional bonds, is $17,881,045, with past due interest, say $5,506,154.85. For specific information I distribute the same as follows :

1st. Old or ante-war bonds, dated prior to the war, total amount,	$ 8,373,200
Accrued interest,	2,513,460
Total,	$10,891,660

These were sold by the State, or by its agents, on an average at par for gold. There is no charge that their proceeds were not honestly expended, although in some instances the investments were unfortunate. For example, the following enterprises, for which $291,000 bonds are outstanding, are almost, if not quite total failures, adding a little, if anything, to the wealth of the State, viz :

Cape Fear and Deep River Navigation Works,	$145,500
Fayetteville and Western Plank Road,	50,500
Neuse and Tar River Improvements,	25,000
Fayetteville and Centre Plank Road,	45,000
Fayetteville and Warsaw Plank Road,	10,000
Tar River,	15,000
Total,	$291,000

The following enterprises, for which $4,210,500 bonds are outstanding, are not failures, i. e., they add something to the prosperity of the country, but the interest of the State in them has little, if any market value :

Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad,	$1,351,500
Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal,	324,000
Western (Coal Fields) Railroad,	388,000
Western North Carolina Railroad,	1,136,000
Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, (now Carolina Central,)	1,013,000
Total,	$4,210,500

The above companies have never declared a dividend. The Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company has gone out of the hands of the State altogether by sale of all its franchise and property.

The following investments, for which bonds now outstanding amount to $2,865,000, have considerable value, viz :

The Insane Asylum,	$ 71,000
North Carolina Railroad,	2,794,000

The bonds issued for the North Carolina Railroad Company are made by the charter of the Company a lien on the State stock in the Company. The bondholders, under a decree of the United States Circuit Court, in the suit of Swazey and others vs. the North Carolina Railroad Company and others, are now receiving the dividends and will, no doubt, at least when the bonds become due, obtain the stock itself, if they so desire.

- 2. The second class of bonds consists of those issued since the war, but under acts passed before, as follows :

Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad,	$ 434,000
Western North Carolina Railroad,	2,294,000

Total principal, $2,728,000

These bonds were sold for not over about sixty cents in the dollar for currency, when gold was at a large premium, netting to the company considerably less than fifty cents in gold.

I have already stated that the interest of the State has been altogether lost in the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company, and it is probable that the same will sooner or later be the case in regard to the Western North Carolina Railroad Company.

- 3. There is a third class of bonds issued during the late war, and for that reason not marketable, but having been for internal improvement purposes, should be included in a general settlement of our debt, viz :

Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company,	$ 493,000
Western North Carolina Railroad Company,	220,000
Western Railroad Company,	200,000

$ 913,000

- 4. A fourth class of bonds consists of those issued to take up past due interest, viz :

Under the Funding Act of 1866,	$ 2,417,400
Under the Funding Act of 1868,	1,711,400

Total principal, $ 4,128,800

Nearly all the bonds issued under the former act were for old bonds matured, and for coupons of old bonds. Those issued under the Funding Act of 1868 were for old bonds matured, all recognized bonds that had become defaced and mutilated, bonds of the denomination of $100 and $200, coupons of old bonds and coupons of bonds issued since the war to the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company, the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, and under the Funding Act of 1866. But none were for coupons of Convention or special tax bonds.

5. A fifth class of bonds comprises those issued under ordinances or acts passed since the war, viz :

To Chatham Railroad Company, (now Raleigh and Augusta Air Line,) under ordinance of Convention of 1868,	$ 1,200,000
Williamston and Tarboro Railroad Company,	150,000
	$1,350,000

The bonds for the Chatham Railroad were disposed of, it is stated, at about sixty cents in currency. What amount the $150,000 to the Williamston and Tarboro Railroad brought I am not informed ; at any rate the investment has been disastrous, and now the interest of the State is entirely lost by sale under bankruptcy proceedings.

Lastly, are the "special tax bonds," in the aggregate $11,407,000, detailed as follows :

Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad,	$ 3,000,000
Western N. C. Railroad (Eastern Division,)	273,000
Western N. C. Railroad (Western Division,)	6,367,000
Western (Coal Fields) Railroad,	1,320,000
Williamston and Tarboro Railroad,	300,000
Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad (outstanding,)	147,000

Of the above, the first million of dollars of bonds issued to the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company, were sold, it is said, at about fifty cents in the dollar and the proceeds were used in paying the debts of the company contracted on construction account, but the residue, about $2,000,000, was sold at a heavy sacrifice at almost nominal prices, and the company derived little benefit from them. The same may be said of those issued for the Western North Carolina Railroad Company. At any rate, but little work was done on the road from their proceeds. The bonds for the Williamston and Tarboro Railroad Company were sold at better rates, but as said above, the State has lost its entire investment. The Western (Coal Fields) Railroad Company derived no benefit worthy of mention from the $1,320,000 issued for that Company.

The foregoing statements show that the experience of the State in railroad and navigation enterprises has been unfortunate, with one exception, the North Carolina Railroad Company. Even this was for many years non-dividend paying. Practically, as to the rest of the debt, except that contracted on account of the Insane Asylum, the State has nothing whatever to show, except whatever general increase of property has been made by the partial construction of the works.

Such general improvement in the value of property in the State does not exist. The valuation of the real estate of North Carolina, in 1860, was in round numbers $97,670,000. In 1872, it was in round numbers, $82,100,000. I am unable to give a comparison as to personal property, because it was not taxed according to its value until 1868, but I think as the total valuation of real and personal estate, in 1872, was $123,500,000, there has been a similar retrograde as to both.

I have gone into this matter in such detail because those who sneer at our not paying interest on the public debt ignore the facts of our situation.

Omitting special tax bonds altogether, the interest on the rest of our debt, supposing our accrued interest to be funded, would be \$1,406,663.99 per annum. To this add the expense of supporting the State government and it will be necessary to raise \$1,900,000 per annum, or 1 and 3-5 per cent. of the real and personal property. Add an amount for county taxation equal to that for State government expenses, and we have, outside the towns and cities, 2 and 1-10 per cent. of our property. And in many of the cities and towns the levies for municipal purposes are as large, if not larger. Now add, as the holders of special tax bonds propose, a tax of \$855,090, or $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 per cent. on the property, and we have a grand total of 2 and 8-10 per cent.

It is manifest that our people cannot and will not pay such enormous levies. Any attempt to enforce it would result in total repudiation. Even if any General Assembly should vote a levy at present, even omitting special tax bonds, the people would reverse their action at the next election. But I am strongly of opinion that good policy requires a speedy adjustment of the public debt. Delay is dangerous. The interest is accumulating. The popular mind is becoming accustomed to the alternative of repudiation. Our good fame is stigmatized. Our bond-holders are a class of influential men, and their increasing ill-humor and consequent denunciation of our State, not only affect the credit of the citizens, but operate to drive off immigration and capital from our limits.

The re-establishment of the public credit will besides tend to nerve our people to greater energy in adherence to their own contracts. Nothing so much tends to impair morality in the citizen as the spectacle of laxity of principle in the commonwealth.

And then the restoration of credit is essential to any future negotiations for borrowing money. The bonds of the State, if allowed to remain outstanding, will be a perpetual reminder of our breach of faith. In all financial circles they will be exhibited as proofs that any new ventures in our securities will be as disastrous as the investments in the repudiated securities. If, however, we can compromise the debt, any sacrifices the creditors submit to will be charged where they justly belong, to the terrible losses of the war.

I have already stated those losses are demonstrated by the present condition of the investments entered into by the State. It is not necessary to add to the list the enormous destruction of our property by the war, the annihilation of our system of labor, the ruin of our wealthiest people by the abolition of slavery, the death or disabling of multitudes of our young men in battle or by disease, the sweeping away of our personal property, our horses, our cattle, our farming implements, the deterioration of our lands. It is not necessary to call to mind the effects on a half ruined people of the financial troubles of 1867 and of the present year. Every fair-minded man will admit that if ever a State can be justified in demanding that creditors should abate part of their demands proportioned to losses by causes unforeseen by both parties at the time of the creation of the debt, that State is North Carolina.

It is said by some that the General Assembly ought to surrender to the creditors all the State property acquired by the creation of the debt, and refuse to pay any more. I have shown that in several instances the interest of the State has been sacrificed. For example, I state its lien on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company has been subordinated to another mortgage, by the foreclosure of which the road has passed into other hands. Its stock in the Western North Carolina Railroad Company is threatened by foreclosure of a like mortgage. It would have been lost a year ago if the General Assembly had not authorized an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. The surrender of interests whose value has been impaired or destroyed by voluntary action of the State will not have any appearance of fairness.

In one case a considerable portion of the bonds might be exchanged for stock of the State. I mean the North Carolina Railroad Company. The holders of bonds issued for that company have already obtained a decree for sequestration of the dividends. It is threatened to apply to the court for a further decree to sell the stock to pay deficiencies of past due interest unpaid. Whether this be done or not, certainly at the maturity of the bonds in 1888, '84 and '85, the bondholders can claim such sale. I respectfully suggest whether it might not be advisable to authorize the exchange at once. This would reduce the debt much more than it would be on a sale of the stock under decree of the court.

The most feasible plan for settling the question of the public debt is to authorize the issue of new bonds, with a tax levied in the act for the payment of the interest, holders of bonds of the State to be allowed to surrender the same and receive the new bonds at such rate by way of compromise as might be prescribed by the General Assembly. I would respectfully suggest that one of the new bonds be offered for two of the old or ante-war bonds and those issued to fund the interest of the same, of like denominations, for three of all other bonds issued since the war, except special tax bonds. As to the latter, let a commission be appointed, whose duty it shall be to estimate what portion of the proceeds went into our public works, and report to the General Assembly. Then the Assembly can declare valid a part of the special tax bonds proportioned to such amount realized.

Of course if any creditor should prefer to decline the proposal indicated and take his chances for better terms hereafter, he could do so. But I am inclined to think that after a full explanation of the poverty of the State, most, if not all, would enter into the arrangement.

I earnestly hope some plan will be carried into effect. I greatly fear that longer delay will result in entire repudiation by inaction at least. Already such a policy is advocated by men of influence, and there is danger that it will become popular. Prompt action only will defeat it.

I learn by the public prints that the Auditor and myself are threatened with a suit by the holders of special tax bonds. This would be in effect a suit against a sovereign State, prohibited by the Constitution of the United States. It will be resisted, of course, to the last extremity. I am informed that the Governor and Attorney General have full power to employ counsel in such defence—if not, I recommend that such power be granted by the General Assembly.

That the State shall pay these bonds in full—many of which were fraudulently sold by State agents, nearly all under circumstances which amounted to notice to prudent men not to buy—cannot be entertained, in my opinion, for a moment.

Counties.

ALAMANCE COUNTY.

ALAMANCE COUNTY was erected in 1848, out of Orange County. It is bounded on the north by Caswell, east by Orange, south by Chatham, and west by Guilford. It derives its name from Alamance Creek, famous in early history for a battle fought on its banks, between the Royal Governor of the colony, William Tryon, and the people under Herman Husbands, Rednap Howell, and others.

Its capital is Graham, named in compliment to Hon. William A. Graham, 54 miles from Raleigh.

ANSON COUNTY.

Anson County was erected as early as 1749, from Bladen County, and comprehended all the western portion of the State, from New Hanover and Bladen on the east, as far as the limits of the State extended on the west, more than one-half of the State.

It derives its name from Admiral Anson, the celebrated Circumnavigator, who at the time (1749) was in the zenith of his fame, having only a short time previous obtained a victory over the French fleet off Cape Finisterre.

Wadesboro', its capital town, derives its name from Thomas Wade, who was Colonel of the minute men of Sallsbury District, in 1775. Distance from Raleigh 143 miles.

ASHE COUNTY.

Ashe County was formed in 1799 from "that portion of Wilkes lying west of the extreme height of the Appalachian Mountains." It is the extreme northwest corner of the State; bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by the Appalachian Mountains, which separate it from Wilkes and Alleghany, and south by Watauga, Wilkes and Caldwell Counties.

It was called in honor of Samuel Ashe, who was but a short time before the erection of this county, Governor of the State.

The character of Governor Ashe is one of which North Carolina may be well proud.

Its capital town preserves in North Carolina the name of Thomas Jefferson, the third President of the United States. Its distance from Raleigh 202 miles.

BERTIE COUNTY.

Bertie was formed as early as 1722, from Albemarle county, (now abolished,) and derives its name from James and John Bertie, in whom the proprietary rights of the Earl of Clarendon was vested. Their names appear in the deed of surrender in 1729 of their rights to the crown.

It is situated in the eastern part of the State, and bounded on the north by the county of Hertford, east by the Chowan river, which separates it from Chowan county, south by the Roanoke river, which separates it from the county of Martin, and west by a part of Northampton county and the Roanoke river, which separate it from Halifax county.

Windsor is its capital town, beautifully situated on the Cashier river, and navigable for vessels.

BLADEN COUNTY.

BLADEN COUNTY was formed as early as 1734, from New Hanover County, and comprehended at the time the whole western portion of the State as far as the limits of North Carolina extended.

It was so called in honor of Martin Bladen, one of the Lords Commissioners of Trade and Plantations.

It is situated in the south-eastern part of North Carolina, and is bounded on the north by the county of Cumberland, and South River, which separates it from Sampson county; on the east by the same river, which separates it from New Hanover County; on the south by the counties of Brunswick and Columbus; and on the west by the county of Robeson.

Elizabethtown, its capital, is situated on the Cape Fear River, and distant from Raleigh 99 miles.

BRUNSWICK COUNTY.

BRUNSWICK COUNTY was formed in 1764, from the counties of Bladen and New Hanover.

It derives its name from the Prince of Brunswick, who married this year (1764), the King's eldest sister.

It is situated in the extreme south-eastern portion of North Carolina, and is bounded on the north by the Cape Fear River, which separates it from New Hanover and Bladen; on the east, by the Cape Fear River, which separates it from New Hanover; on the south, by the Atlantic Ocean and the South Carolina line; on the west, by Waccamaw River, which separates it from Columbus County.

Its capital is SMITHVILLE, distance from Raleigh one hundred and seventy-three miles.

BUNCOMBE COUNTY.

BUNCOMBE COUNTY was formed in 1791, from Burke and Rutherford counties, and derives its name from Col. Edward Buncombe, of that part of Tyrrell which is now Washington county; he was Colonel of the 5th regiment raised by North Carolina for the Continental army.

Colonel Buncombe was a native of St. Kitts, one of the West India islands. He inherited land in Tyrrell county and built a house, now in the possession of his descendants.

Buncombe county is situated in the western portion of the State; bounded on the north and west by the Appalachian Mountains and the new county of Madison, east by Rutherford and McDowell counties, south by Henderson county and Transylvania, and west by Haywood county and the Tennessee line.

Its capital is Asheville, named in compliment to Governor Samuel Ashe, of New Hanover county. It was originally called Morristown, and is a most flourishing village, not far from the French Broad River. 256 miles from Raleigh.

CAMDEN COUNTY.

CAMDEN COUNTY was formed in 1777, from Pasquotank county, and derives its name from the Earl of Camden, who was a distinguished English Statesman, Judge, and friend of popular rights. In Parliament he strongly opposed the taxation of America, and for his liberal principles was removed from his elevated position as Lord High Chancellor of England, 1770, by Lord North's ministry.

The name of this county in the original act, is spelt Camden.

It is situated in the north-eastern portion of the State, and bounded on the north by the Virginia line, south by Albemarle Sound, east by Currituck county, and west by Pasquotank River, which separates it from Pasquotank county.

CARTERET COUNTY.

CARTERET was one of the original precincts of the Lords Proprietors, and was called in honor of one of them, who is styled in the charter of Charles II. as "our right truly and well beloved counsellor, Sir George Carteret, Knight and Baronet, Vice-Chancellor of our Household." He is described by a cotemporary writer, as "the passionate and ignorant, and not too honest Sir George Carteret."

Its situation is in the extreme eastern portion of the State, and is bounded on the north by the Pamlico Sound and county of Craven, south and east by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by the counties of Jones and Onslow.

Its capital is Beaufort, which possesses a fine harbor, great depth of water, and is destined to become the marine depot of North Carolina. Its distance from Raleigh is 168 miles.

CASWELL COUNTY.

CASWELL COUNTY was erected in 1777, out of Orange County.

It derives its name from Richard Caswell, the first Governor under the Constitution.

Caswell County is situated in the north-western part of North Carolina, and forms a beautiful compact square, having the Virginia line on the north; Person County on the east; Alamance and Orange on the south; and Rockingham County on the west.

Its capital is YANCEYVILLE, named in compliment to Bartlett Yancey, and distant from Raleigh 66 miles.

CHOWAN COUNTY.

CHOWAN COUNTY was one of the original precincts of the Lords Proprietors, under charter of King Charles II., and derives its name from the tribe of Indians, Chowanokes, who once owned and inhabited this territory.

It is situated in the north-eastern part of the State; bounded on the north by Gates County, on the east by Perquimans, on the south by the Albemarle Sound, and on the west by the Chowan River, which separates it from Gates and Hertford Counties.

Its capital is EDENTON, named in compliment after Charles Eden, the royal Governor of the Province in 1720. He died in 1722, and lies buried in Bertie County.

This ancient borough was settled in 1716, which was originally called Queen-Anne's Creek.

CRAVEN COUNTY.

CRAVEN COUNTY was one of the original precincts of the Lords Proprietors, and derives its name from William, Earl of Craven, to whom with others the charter from Charles the Second was granted. He was a brave cavalier, and old soldier of the German discipline, and supposed husband to the Queen of Bohemia.

It is situated in the eastern part of the State, bounded on the north by Pitt and Beaufort and Pamlico counties, on the east by the Pamlico Sound, on the south by Carteret and Jones, and on the west by Pitt and Lenoir counties.

Its capital is Newbern, one of the largest and oldest towns in the State; beautifully located at the confluence of the Neuse and Trent rivers. It derives its name from Bern, the place of nativity of Christopher Baron de Graaffenreidt, who, in 1709, emigrated to this State and settled near this place.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY was formed in 1754, from the upper part of Bladen; derives its name from the Duke of Cumberland.

It is situated in nearly the centre of the State, having Harnett county on the north, Sampson on the east, Bladen and Robeson on the south, Richmond and Moore counties on the west.

Its capital town is Fayetteville. This flourishing and ancient town was settled in 1762. It was first called Campbelltown, then Cross Creek, and in 1784, its name was changed to Fayetteville, in honor of General Lafayette, who was a native of France, and who perilled his life and fortune in the cause of liberty. He was a Major-General in the American army, fought in her battles, was wounded at Brandywine, and having aided in the freedom of this country, he returned to his native land.

Fayetteville is distant from Raleigh sixty miles. It is located on the Cape Fear River, which is navigable to this place for steam and other boats.

On the 29th of May, 1831, Fayetteville was almost wholly destroyed by fire.

CURRITUCK COUNTY.

CURRITUCK COUNTY was one of the early precincts of the State in 1729, when the Lords Proprietors surrendered their rights to the English Crown. It derives its name from a tribe of Indians who once inhabited and owned the country.

Its location is the extreme north-eastern portion of North Carolina; bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Albemarle Sound, and west by Camden County.

Its court house, on Currituck Sound, is beautifully located, and is distant from Raleigh 242 miles.

EDGECOMBE COUNTY.

EDGECOMBE COUNTY was formed from Craven county in 1783, by the Governor (Burrington) and Council, and confirmed by the Legislature, which met at Edenton in 1741.

Its name is Saxon, and signifies "a valley environed with hills," and is derived from the Earl of Mount Edgecombe, who, as Capt. Edgecombe, of the navy, had served with reputation under Admiral Byng, in 1756, in Minorca.

It is located in the eastern part of North Carolina, and is bounded on the north by Halifax county, east by Martin county, south by Pitt, Wilson and Wayne counties, and west by Nash county.

Tarborough is the capital, on the Tar River, distant from Raleigh 76 miles. The original name of Tar River was Tau, which, in the native Indian tongue, means "River of Health."

FORSYTHE COUNTY.

FORSYTHE COUNTY was formed in 1848, from Stokes County.

Forsythe County derives its name from Col. Benjamin Forsythe, of Stokes County, who resided in Germantown. In 1807 he represented Stokes County in the House of Commons.

In the war of 1812 he was appointed a Captain of a Rifle Company, and marched to Canada, where, in a skirmish in 1814, he was killed.

It is located in the north-western part of the State, and is bounded on the north by Stokes County, east by Guilford County, south by Davidson County, and west by Yadkin County.

Its capital is WINSTON, and is distant from Raleigh one hundred and ten miles. This village preserves the name of Joseph Winston, who rendered important military services in the revolution, and civil service since.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

FRANKLIN COUNTY was founded in 1779. The General Assembly in that year obliterated the name of Bute, and divided its territory into the counties of Franklia and Warren. It derives its name from Benjamin Franklin, the Philosopher and Sage, who rendered such signal services to his country in the Revolution in a civil capacity. He was born January 1706, in Boston, and died in Philadelphia, April, 1790, where he lies buried.

It is located near the centre of the State, joining Wake County, in which is the seat of Government. Bounded on the north by Warren, east by Nash, south and west by Wake.

Its capital is LOUISBURG, and is distant 36 miles north-east of Raleigh.

GASTON COUNTY.

GASTON COUNTY was formed in 1846, from Lincoln county, and derives its name from William Gaston, late one of the Judges of the Supreme Court.

It is situated in the south-western part of the State, and is bounded on the north by Lincoln county, east by the Catawba river, which separates it from Mecklenburg county, south by the South Carolina line, and west by Cleveland county.

Its capital is Dallas, named in compliment to the Hon. George M. Dallas, of Philadelphia, who was Vice-President of the United States in 1844. Distance 175 miles from Raleigh. For many years Gaston county voted with Lincoln and Catawba.

GATES COUNTY.

GATES COUNTY was formed in 1779, from Hertford, Chowan and Perquimans counties. It derives its name from Gen. Horatio Gates, who at this time was in the zenith of his popularity, having acquired a brilliant victory in 1777 at Saratoga, over General Burgoyne and the English army, but whose laurels were destined to fade on the unfortunate field of Camden.

It is situated in the north-eastern part of the State, and is bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by Pasquotank, south by Perquimans and Chowan, and west by Hertford county.

Its capital is Gatesville, and is distant from Raleigh 167 miles.

GRANVILLE COUNTY.

GRANVILLE COUNTY was formed in 1746, from Edgecombe county, and was so called in honor of the owner of the soil.

The King of England (Charles the II.) granted to Sir George Carteret, and seven other English noblemen, in 1663, a charter for this region, with much more, and it was called Carolina from him. In 1729 these proprietors surrendered to the English crown all their franchises, except John (son of Sir George Carteret, who died in 1696.) He was afterwards created Earl of Granville. He retained his eighth part of the soil. The line was run in 1743. Lord Granville's territory was from 35 deg., 34 min. south, to the Virginia line on the north, and from the Atlantic Ocean on the east, to the Pacific Ocean on the west. A most princely domain.

Its situation is in the northern part of the State, and is bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by Warren and Franklin counties, south by Wake, and west by Person and Orange counties.

Its capital is Oxford, 86 miles north of Raleigh.

GREENE COUNTY.

Until 1791, there was in North Carolina a county called Dobbs, in compliment to Arthur Dobbs, Royal Governor of the State in 1754. In 1791, Dobbs was divided into Lenoir and Glasgow, and in 1799, the name of Greene was substituted for that of Glasgow.

It was named in compliment to General Nathaniel Greene, who was one of the bravest, most sagacious, and most successful officers of the revolution, and the saviour of the south from the invasions of the British.

Greene county is situated in the south-eastern part of the State. Bounded on the north by Wilson, east by Pitt, south by Lenoir, and west by Wayne.

Its capital is Snow Hill, 89 miles east of Raleigh.

GUILFORD COUNTY.

GUILFORD COUNTY was erected in the year 1770, from Rowan and range. It was called in compliment of Lord North, who in 1770, succeeded the Duke of Grafton as First Lord of the Treasury and Prime Minister. He was heir to the title of Guilford, and eventually succeeded to it as Earl of Guilford.

Its situation is west of Raleigh, and the county presents on the map a beautiful compact square; bounded on the north by Rockingham, east by Alamance, south by Randolph, and west by Forsythe and Davidson Counties.

Its capital is GREENSBORO', a most flourishing town, named in compliment of General Nathaniel Greene, 82 miles from Raleigh.

Alamance and Guilford form the twenty-fourth Senatorial District.

HALIFAX COUNTY.

HALIFAX COUNTY was formed in 1758 from Edgewcombe county, and in this year the court house for the counties of Edgewcombe, Granville and Northampton was moved from Enfield to the town of Halifax.

It derives its name from the Earl of Halifax, who, in 1758, was the first Lord of the Board of Trade. "It is a name of Saxon origin, and means 'holy hair,' from the sacred hair of a certain virgin, whom a clerk beheaded, because she resisted his passion. She was canonized." It is situated in the north-eastern part of the State, and bounded on the north and east by the Roanoke River, which separates it from Northampton county, on the south by Martin, Edgewcombe and Nash counties, and the west by the county of Warren. Its capital town is Halifax, which is beautifully located on the west bank of the Roanoke River, navigable for steam and other boats, and distant from Raleigh 87 miles.

HERTFORD COUNTY.

HERTFORD COUNTY was formed as early as 1759, from Chowan, Bertie, and Northampton counties. It was named in compliment to the Marquis of Hertford, an English nobleman, a friend of liberty, and elder brother of Lord Conway, who in 1766, moved in the House of Lords, the repeal of the Stamp Act.

It is situated in the north-eastern part of the State; bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by the Chowan river, which separates it from Gates county, south by Bertie, and west by Northampton county.

Its capital is Winton, and is so named in compliment to the Wynns family, for many years a wealthy, patriotic, and distinguished family in this county. Distant from Raleigh 155 miles. It is beautifully situated on the Chowan river, which is navigable for any shipping that can enter Ocracoke Inlet.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

LINCOLN COUNTY was formerly called Tryon, in honor of William Troy, the Royal Governor; but whose odious oppressions caused the General Assembly to blot out his name, and in 1779 to divide this territory into Lincoln and Rutherford.

Lincoln county was so called in honor of Benjamin Lincoln, who, at the time of its formation, was fighting the battles of his country against the British at Charleston.

Bounded on the north by Catawba, east by Catawba River, which separates it from Iredell and Mecklenburg, south by Gaston, and west by Cleveland.

Its county seat, Lincolnton, is 172 miles distant from Raleigh.

MACDOWELL COUNTY.

MACDOWELL COUNTY was erected in 1842, and called in honor of Colone Joseph MacDowell.

It was formed from portions of Rutherford and Burke Counties.

It is situated in the western part of the State, and bounded on the north by the Blue Ridge, which separates it from Yancey, east by Burke, south by Rutherford, and west by the Blue Ridge, which separates it from Yancey and Buncombe.

It is called in honor of Colonel Joseph MacDowell, who resided in this county. He was born at Pleasant Garden, on Feb. 25th, 1758. He was distinguished as a soldier and as a Statesman. He married Mary Moffet, by whom he had several children—among them, Colonel James MacDowell, of Yancey, John MacDowell, of Rutherford, and the wife of Captain Charles MacDowell. After his death, April, 1795, she married Colonel John Carson, of Pleasant Garden, and by him she had a number of children, among them the Hon. Samuel P. Carson.

Marion is the county seat, and called after the distinguished partisan general of South Carolina, Francis Marion, and is distant from Raleigh about 200 miles.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY was formed in 1728, and called in honor of the House of Hanover, then on the English throne.

It is situated in the south-eastern part of North Carolina ; and bounded on the north by Duplin, east by Onslow, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by the Cape Fear and South Rivers, which separate it from Brunswick and Bladen counties.

Its capital is Wilmington, called in compliment to the Earl of Wilmington, the nobleman to whose patronage Governor Johnston (in 1739) was indebted for his office. It was originally called Newton. Distance from Raleigh 148 miles.

On April 30th, 1844, a large portion of this beautiful town was destroyed by fire.

New Hanover is the 12th Senatorial District.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY.

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY was formed in 1741, from Bertie; but history and tradition are alike silent as to the origin of its name. Martin, in his History, merely states that the Legislature met "at Wilmington, in the latter part of 1741, and the session was of short duration; the county of Bertie was divided, and the upper part of it established as a new county, to which the name of Northampton, was given.

It is situated in the north-eastern part of the State; and bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by Hertford and Bertie, south by Halifax, and west by the Roanoke River, which separates it from Halifax.

Its capital is JACKSON, and preserves the name of Andrew Jackson, the hero of New Orleans, and sixth President of the United States.

ORANGE COUNTY.

ORANGE COUNTY was formed in 1751, from Granville, Johnston and Bladen Counties, and called in compliment to the House of Orange, which, in the persons of William and Mary, in 1692, filled the English throne.

It is located in the centre of the State, and bounded on the north by Person and Caswell, on the east by Granville and Wake, south by Chatham, and west by Alamance.

Its capital is HILLSBORO', 40 miles north-west of Raleigh.

Hillsboro' was laid out in 1759, by W. Churton, and was first called Childsburg, in honor of the Attorney General of the Colony; but altered to Hillsboro', in compliment to Earl of Hillsboro', the English Secretary of State for America.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY was formed in 1785 from Guilford County, and derives its name from Charles Watson Wentworth, Marquis of Rockingham, who was a distinguished friend of America in the English Parliament, and acted in concert with William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, in opposition to Lord North. In 1783 he was the Premier of England.

It is located in the north-western part of the State, and bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by Caswell, south by Guilford, and west by Stokes.

Its capital is WENTWORTH, in honor of the family name of the House of Rockingham, and is distant one hundred and sixteen miles north-west of Raleigh.

ROWAN COUNTY.

ROWAN COUNTY was formed in 1753 from Anson county, and until Surry (in 1770), and Burke (in 1777), were taken off, comprehended much of the western part of the State of North Carolina and Tennessee. The history of Rowan then is the history of Western North Carolina.

Rowan is situated in the western part of the State, bounded on the north by Davie county, one of her daughters, east by the Yadkin River, which separates her from Davidson, (another daughter,) south by Stanly and Cabarrus, and west by Iredell, another daughter.

Salisbury, her capitol, is nearly west from Raleigh 118 miles. It derives its name from a town in England about seventy miles west from London. It is a word of Saxon origin, meaning a dry town.

RUTHERFORD COUNTY.

RUTHERFORD COUNTY was erected in 1779 out of Tryon County, which was in this year abolished, and its territory divided into Lincoln and Rutherford, and called in honor of Griffith Rutherford, who was a Brigadier-General in the Revolutionary war.

It is located in the western part of the State, and bounded on the north by McDowell, east by Cleaveland, south by the South Carolina line and Polk County, and west by Henderson and Buncombe.

Its capital, RUTHERFORDTON, is two hundred and sixteen miles west of Raleigh.

SURRY COUNTY.

SURRY COUNTY was formed in 1770, from Rowan county; which until this date comprehended a large portion of Western North Carolina, from beyond the Yadkin to the Mississippi river.

It derives its name from the county of Surry in the south of England. Its name is Saxon, and signifies "the South river."

Surry county is situated in the north-western portion of North Carolina.

It is bounded on the north by the Virginia line, east by Stokes county, south by Yadkin, and west by Wilkes and Alleghany counties.

Its capital is Rockford, and is distant from Raleigh 110 miles north-west.

WAKE COUNTY

Was erected in 1770, from Orange, Johnston and Cumberland.

The troubles arising from the oppression and extortion in this war, induced Governor Tryon to divide Orange county into three divisions: Gullford, Chatham and Wake. Wake was so called in compliment to the maiden name of Governor Tryon's wife.

Wake is bounded on the north by Granville and Franklin counties, on the east by Franklin and Johnston, on the south by Johnston and Harnett, and on the west by Chatham and Orange.

In this county is Raleigh, the capital of the State of North Carolina.

Most appropriately does it preserve the name of the statesman and soldier, under whose auspices was fitted out the first expedition that ever landed in the United States. His name is illustrious as a gallant warrior, as a sagacious statesman, and as a faithful and accurate historian; he was born in 1552. Under the smiles of the "Virgin Queen" Elizabeth, he rose to favor and honors, but after her death, from the pusillanimous policy of James I, he was condemned for offences of which he was innocent, and was beheaded in 1618.

WARREN COUNTY.

WARREN COUNTY was formed in 1779. In this year Bute county was divided, and the counties of Franklin and Warren formed from it.

Warren is bounded on the north by the Virginia line, on the east by Northampton and Halifax counties, on the south by Franklin county, on the west by Granville.

It derives its name from Joseph Warren, of Massachusetts.

WILKES COUNTY.

WILKES COUNTY was formed in the year 1777 from Surry, and called in honor of John Wilkes, a distinguished English statesman and member of Parliament. He was ejected by the ministerial party from Parliament on account of his liberal political views; and as often he was returned by the people. He died in 1797.

Wilkes County is situated in the extreme north-west portion of our State; and bounded on the north by the Blue Ridge, which separates it from Ashe County; east by Surry, south by Alexander, and west by Ashe and Watauga Counties.

Its capital, WILKESBORO', is one hundred and seventy-two miles north-west of Raleigh.

Its population in 1850 was 10,746 whites; 211 free negroes; 1,142 slaves; 11,642 representative population.

Its products in 1840 were 463,793 bushels of corn; 64,210 bushels of oats; 30,268 bushels of wheat; 24,567 pounds of tobacco; 12,468 pounds of cotton; 19,634 pounds of wool.
